AGA is dedicated to helping our members provide the best care to your patients with inflammatory bowel disease (IBD) by helping them better understand and manage their condition.

Inform your patients about AGA’s education resources by sharing these resources on your practice Web site or social media channels and tag @AmerGastroAssn.

IBD Parenthood Project

The AGA IBD Parenthood Project aims to address misperceptions and fears women with IBD and their health care providers experience throughout all phases of family planning. Visit www.IBDParenthoodProject.org for resources to share with your patients, including a downloadable toolkit with visual and patient-friendly education.

What Patients Need to Know About Living with IBD

This series will help your patients understand IBD; the difference between ulcerative colitis and Crohn's disease; disease management; and surgical, medical, and lifestyle treatment options. Available in the AGA GI Patient Center in English (http://ow.ly/ZEzx30qdhU7) and Spanish (http://ow.ly/rNRQ30qdhUQ) and in previous issues of the AGA Patient Education section of Clinical Gastroenterology and Hepatology.

AGA also offers videos in English (http://ow.ly/3L5530qdhVh) and Spanish (http://ow.ly/8cUy30qdhV3). Share the videos or embed them on your practice Web site.

Understanding Biologics and Biosimilars

Help your patients better understand their treatment options by sharing AGA’s patient education on biologics and biosimilars:

- Available in English (http://ow.ly/jx0O30qdhVC) and Spanish (http://ow.ly/6ynz30qdhW6).
- AGA videos in English (http://ow.ly/aimL30qdhWG) and Spanish (http://ow.ly/1qkT30qdhWW).

Navigating Step Therapy

Each state has different regulations on step therapy, which affects how you can appeal your patient’s care. To educate you and your patients about patient-focused state step therapy laws, AGA has developed a series of videos and podcasts that provide step-by-step directions for how you can use the laws to effectively advocate on behalf of your patients. Visit www.gastro.org/step-therapy.

IBD Insider: Patient Updates from the Crohn’s & Colitis Congress

AGA and the Crohn’s & Colitis Foundation hosted a live virtual patient and caregiver scientific symposium during the 2020 Crohn’s & Colitis Congress. Watch at https://www.crohnscolitisfoundation.org/ibdinsider.
